

National Autistic Society

The National Autistic Society - NAS - provide information, support and a range of useful services. These services support parents, people with a diagnosis of autism and professionals who support and advise people with autism, including school teachers. They support people looking for employment and offer befriending and support groups as well as information about benefits including carers benefits and respite.

They also campaign for a better world for autistic people and hold courses, training programmes which raise awareness across society.
