

Gosforth Drop in Information and Advice Session

When looking after someone, having the right information at the right time can make a difference. These sessions provide carers with information, support and guidance on any concern relating to their caring role.

You don't need an appointment to see a Carer Information and Advice Workers at the Drop-in Information and Advice Session at Gosforth.

Newcastle Carers have a selection of free drop-ins across Newcastle to give you a chance to get dedicated information and advice tailored to meet your individual needs.

If you're unable to come along to one of the drop-ins, contact the free and confidential Carers Information Line to talk to a Carer Information and Advice Worker who can provide information on a range of topics.
