

Emergency Services - Fire, Police, Ambulance

If somebody's life is in danger or a crime is taking place, phone 999.

You will speak to a telephone operator who will ask you questions, including your location so they can dispatch an emergency service to help. This could be Police, Fire, Ambulance, Coast Guard or a combination of services depending on the emergency. Calling from a landline gives the call handler some information about your location.

If you're in an emergency situation and need police help, but can't speak, Make Yourself Heard using the Silent Police Solution to let the 999 operator know your call is genuine. Cough or tap the phone to make a noise if you can. Press 55 when prompted by the call operator. Listen to their questions.
