

North East Solidarity and Teaching (NEST)

North East Solidarity and Teaching (NEST) run free English language classes for refugees and asylum seekers from all backgrounds and of all ages. This includes children with their parents. They also offer a free program of community integration activities including arts, sports and field trips.

Sessions take place at Newcastle University and online. You can watch their videos on YouTube. If you would like to attend the face-to-face sessions please email NEST.

NEST is a Newcastle University Students' Union (NUSU) student-run volunteer project, managed by Go Volunteer.

Last updated: May 17, 2024

Telephone: 0191 239 3900

Email: nest.union@newcastle.ac.uk

Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/N.E.S.T.NUSU/>

Youtube: https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCqe4EjIhMRHnrYm3_IBKvkQ

Address:

Newcastle University Students' Union
King's Walk
Newcastle upon Tyne
NE1 8QB

Related Articles

Support for Asylum Seekers and Refugees

ESOL : English lessons for people who speak English as a second or other language

How you can help refugees and asylum seekers