Nordoff Robbins Music Therapy Service Centre

Nordoff Robbins work in partnership with over 200 diverse organisations across the UK to bring music therapy to schools, care homes, hospices, hospitals, mental health services, and brain injury units. They work with anyone regardless of age or condition.

The Newcastle centre is situated in Jesmond. It is a dedicated music therapy centre and training base where they provide a broad range of services.

At the music therapy centre they offer individual and group music therapy sessions. The 12 week blocks of music therapy are free. Donations can be made through the website.
