Help to pay energy debts

If you're in debt to your energy supplier, you might be able to get a grant to help pay it off. The following energy suppliers offer grants to their customers:

- British Gas Energy Trust
- Scottish Power Hardship Fund
- Ovo Energy Fund
- EDF Energy Fund

- EON Next Energy Fund
- Octopus Assist Fund

If you can't get a grant from your supplier, check if you can get a grant from the British Gas Energy Trust. Their 'Individuals and Families Fund' is available to both British Gas and non-British Gas customers. You will need to check their website to see if it is still open, and if you are able to apply.

Gov.uk's Find a Grant service is where you can search for government funding to help you pay for things such as a new boiler.

Turn2Us are a national charity who also have a grants search engine. This page will ask a number of questions about your individual circumstances to find the right financial support available to you.

Prepayment energy costs

If your prepayment meters are about to run out of credit and you don't have any funds to top up, you need to contact your energy supplier. Your supplier should be able to issue a credit voucher or extend your emergency credit.

If your supplier tells you that they won't help, then you can ask the Citizens Advice extra help unit to speak to them on your behalf:

- phone the Citizens Advice consumer helpline
 - complete the extra help unit online referral form (do not use this option if you need help the same day)

Food help
