

That Guy

That Guy shows men how their behaviour can be harmful to women. Their website and videos start conversations with men about male sexual entitlement to help reduce sexual crimes. Don't be That Guy.

Men are most often the perpetrators of violence against women. It can often start with words, or what may be referred to as a 'joke' or 'banter'. There is a range of problematic and sexist behaviour towards women. This includes catcalling, harassing, belittling or objectifying women and includes violence, threatening behaviour, assault and rape. That Guy has helpful videos and articles that help to explain how acting in this way harms women.

This campaign is run by Police Scotland.
