

Royal Osteoporosis Society

The Royal Osteoporosis Society is a UK wide charity dedicated to improving the diagnosis, prevention and treatment of osteoporosis and fragility fractures.

Whether you are personally affected by the disease, a health professional seeking technical information on osteoporosis, or whether you simply wish to find out general information on the condition, they will be able to help you.

Call the free Helpline on 0808 800 0035 to speak to specialist nurses.
