

Virtually Tuneless online choir

Virtually Tuneless is an online 'choir' for people who want to 'sing like no one is listening', no matter how wonky their singing notes

It's for everyone who can't reach a physical choir or perhaps have caring responsibilities and want a fun activity to join from the comfort of home.

Sessions run on Tuesday evenings from 8pm to 9pm on Zoom and provide an hour of fun and friendship. It includes a short warm up and then belting out 10 to 12 different songs, sometimes themed, with everyone singing the lead (on mute!) Zero singing talent required!

There is a local Tuneless Choir that meets in Newcastle too.
