Newcastle University - INSIGHTS Public Lectures

INSIGHTS Public Lectures take place at Newcastle University and are free and open to all.

The aim is to offer a programme that will inform, stimulate, entertain, and excite debate. Many of the speakers are leaders in their field and all have something of special interest to convey. Their lectures cover a wide range of disciplines and frequently include key contemporary issues, particularly those that affect our daily lives.

All lectures are free and open to all, with spaces allocated on a first-come first-served basis – for more popular talks an overspill room will be in operation.

Newcastle university has a Changing Place accessible toilet. These toilets have equipment is to help you to get on and off the toilet, or to change your continence pad. Such as a hoist, a height-adjustable changing bench and a shower. These toilets have more space so your carer or carers can help you if needed. There is a changing area with screens or curtains to give you some privacy. Visit the Changing Places website to see the opening times and how access them. You can only access the toilets when the buildings are open. You may need a Radar Key to open the toilet.
