Silverline Memories

Silverline Memories is a charity that supports people who are living with dementia and the people who care for them. They run a dementia activity centre in Newcastle where people can take part in small group activities that support memory, conversation and social connection.

The service is open to people with dementia and their carers. People can access support by contacting Silverline Memories directly by phone or email to find out about activities, availability and any costs. The charity also runs a dementia?friendly charity shop, which helps fund their work and provides opportunities for community involvement.

Silverline Memories now also has a benefits advisor to offer advice and support to families affected by dementia. They can help with reviews, applications and appeals. Make an appointment via telephone or email.

> Silverline Memories is a Wellbeing Hub. They're a warm welcoming place to spend time in Newcastle. They offer a range of support such as hot drinks, free Wi-Fi, place to charge your devices, information, advice and more. Read more about Wellbeing Hubs
