Valuing Our Intellectual Capital and Experience (VOICE)

VOICE (Valuing Our Intellectual Capital and Experience) at Newcastle University, involves members of the public in research. Members work with academics to improve the focus, quality, relevance and impact of research, to make a positive difference to people's lives.

VOICE believes that older people are an asset and have immense knowledge, ideas, insights and accumulated life experience. Members enjoy lifelong learning and becoming research active citizens whilst at the same time helping to shape social and technological innovation.
