

Abundance Exhibition

Abundance is an installation created by artist and choreographer Lizzie Klotz and designer Bethany Wells in conversation with community neighbours in Shieldfield.

You are invited to walk, lie down and rest and be held in the space, connecting to the feeling of abundance – however that might be accessed in your body – through moments of stillness, play and reflection.

The installation is part of a wider interdisciplinary project devised by Lizzie with a host of collaborators, including design by Bethany and music by Jayne Dent (Me Lost Me). At the core of Abundance is a live performance, touring to theatres across the UK, with an intergenerational cast of professional and non-professional dancers. At NewBridge the spatial playground initially created for the dancers becomes an immersive environment for you to inhabit.
