

Green Border film screening.

2021, Polish-Belarusian border. Cold, barbed wire fence, searchlights, transport vans. Migrants crossing the wood in the hope of fleeing from war and death, only to find that the journey to a sanctuary is no less deadly than what they are fleeing from.

Political conflicts deteriorate into a humanitarian crisis, where common people in different positions find their conscience being put to test.

Last updated: June 8, 2026