Information NOW
Information for people in Newcastle upon Tyne

PaCT Lab, Northumbria University

Psychology and Communication Technology (PaCT) is a Human-Computer Interaction lab at Northumbria University. Their research and work covers four themes: privacy, security, trust, and behaviour change. Their work includes:

- understanding how people use technology
- how older adults use e-health technologies, cyber security systems, and digital privacy controls.
- workshops on topics such as cyber security and online privacy

Last updated: October 27, 2025

Telephone: 0191 227 3716

Website: https://pactlab.co.uk/

Email: dawn.branley-bell@northumbria.ac.uk

Twitter: https://twitter.com/PaCTLab

Address:
PaCT Lab
Northumberland Building
Newcastle upon Tyne
NE1 8SU

Related Articles

Volunteering

What you can do online

Get involved in health research