UK Health Security Agency

Formerly Public Health England, the UK Health Security Agency is a government organisation which has been created to protect the nation's health. It is responsible for protecting everyone from the impact of infectious diseases, chemical, biological, radiological and nuclear incidents and other health threats. It provides intellectual, scientific and operational leadership at national and local level, as well as on the global stage, to make the nation's health secure.

The Northern regional office is based in Leeds but there are local contacts based at Newcastle Civic Centre and Gallowgate

During Coronavirus, it produced a booklet called Active at Home to support older people and those who are shielded to be active and healthy at home.

Last updated: December 1, 2022

Telephone: 0300 303 8395

Telephone 2: 0300 303 8396 (option 1)

Telephone 2 note: Health protection team

Website: https://www.gov.uk/government/organisations/public-health-england

Website 2: https://campaignresources.phe.gov.uk/resources/campaigns/

Cost: Free

Related Articles

10 Tips for good health

Healthy eating and drinking

How to stay active while you are at home

Weight management

Alcohol

Coronavirus and safeguarding vulnerable people

Flu

Baby, children and young people's health

Stay at home Save Lives – Coronavirus information 25 March 2020