British Cycling

British Cycling's Lets Ride Programme organise everything from huge traffic-free bike rides through major towns and cities, to small local rides which are great for families and beginners. They train volunteers to lead and inspire rides all over the country. They help you find great cycling routes and people to explore them with.

They work closely in partnership with Newcastle City Council, and deliver a variety of rides across Newcastle and surrounding areas.

Partners in the campaign Moving the Nation with Sustrans and other organisations.
