

Recite Me

Recite Me is a system which allows website visitors to customise a site the way they need it to work for them. Around one in every five people in the UK has a disability and they can often face barriers like inaccessible websites that prevent them from taking an active part in life.

The software includes text to speech functionality, dyslexia software, an interactive dictionary, a translation tool with over 100 languages, including 35 text to speech voices and many other features. Recite Me works across all devices, giving everyone the opportunity to use the internet the way it is intended.
